

Prof. Kleoniki Lyroudia(female). Head of the Department of Endodontology, Dental School, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece. Program Director of the postgraduate studies in Endodontics in Aristotle University of Thessaloniki Greece until 2020. She received the diploma of Dentistry and Ph.D. degree in the Dental School, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece. Since 2009 she has been Professor at the Department of Endodontology, Dental School, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki, Greece. She served as visiting researcher at Dental School Giessen, as Visiting Professor at Dental School, Toronto University, Canada and University of British Columbia, Canada. She supervised 3 completed PhD theses and 10 completed master theses in Endodontology most of them in cooperation with the AIIA Lab, Department of Informatics and the Department of Pathology, Aristotle University of Thessaloniki. She has research experience in 2D and 3D imaging in dentistry, tooth biology and development, periapical pathosis and clinical endodontics. She has published 2 monographs. She has over 100 presentations in national, European and International meetings and Congresses. She has published over 90 scientific/research articles in national and international journals that appear 1200+ citations ( h-index 19). She has participated in 9 competitive R&D Research Projects. She was principal investigator/researcher in 5 of them. 4 of the 9 were funded from the European Union and 2 of the 9 were transnational co-operations. Most of her publications were funded from the above R&D Research Projects.
